

kind services rather than maybe a direct contribution or something in that nature. Those organizations that can present in-kind services, if we take that out we give them a terrific advantage over those individuals that do not have similar type services to contribute. So I think probably to be totally fair it probably should remain in.

SENATOR CARSTEN: Thank you, Mr. President...or Senator Dworak. That is my very concern. I think that we are being a little discriminatory here with the committee amendment, and that was the basic reason for my introducing the amendment to the amendment.

PRESIDENT: Senator Brennan.

SENATOR BRENNAN: Mr. Chairman, members of the body. The reason that amendment was inserted in there is volunteer services are not detailed, there is not a good description in the bill of what volunteer services actually are. If Senator Carsten would yield. Senator Carsten, do you think that volunteer services are explained adequately in the bill?

SENATOR CARSTEN: No, and I guess that's really my concern too, Senator Brennan. I don't think that it's very clear, it's pretty broad, and leaves the door open pretty well for voluntary personal services. That is really my concern.

SENATOR BRENNAN: What I'm asking is, what are volunteer personal services? How deep do you go? Is that affixing a bumpersticker, or placing a yard sign, or...?

SENATOR CARSTEN: There is the problem. I think it should be spelled out. I don't have the language to do that.

SENATOR BRENNAN: I personally think this amendment does some clarifying. I object to it being stricken. Thank you.

PRESIDENT: Senator Dworak, did you want to be recognized again?

SENATOR DWORAK: Mr. President, colleagues. I have a question of Senator Brennan. Senator Brennan, you just indicated that in-kind services were now defined. I don't see that in the amendment, the definition of in-kind services whatsoever. Could you expand on that, please.

PRESIDENT: I'm sorry.

SENATOR DWORAK: I asked Senator Brennan a question, if he'd yield.

SENATOR BRENNAN: Yes, I do think it explains them.

SENATOR DWORAK: Can you tell me what in-kind services are, Senator Brennan?

SENATOR BRENNAN: Yes. In-kind service is something that somebody is being paid to do.

SENATOR DWORAK: Then with your amendment, if we pay for in-kind services, you don't have to report them. Is that right? Because you're striking all in-kind services.

SENATOR BRENNAN: I'm striking in-kind services that are not paid for.
